Director's Notes

There are so many people who have had a hand in putting this show together; I don't even know where to start. A huge thank you to Mike Trapp for giving me this opportunity and for helping me along the way, and also to Vikki Maxwell for being a mentor to me and answering any and all questions that came up.

Thank you's to both Shaun Capser and Spenser Saltsman for always being there to help me with props and bios and anything else I might have needed help with. Also thanks to Zach Everly for playing piano for me at a few rehearsals, because, as my cast members have learned, my piano skills are sub par. Thanks to everyone who pitched in, all the parent and student volunteers, my stage crew and tech workers, and the countless people who have shown their support of myself and this show. I can't tell you how much it means to me.

I feel so lucky to have been able to do this show and work with such an amazing cast--I can't stop talking about what a great cast this is. They're such innovative, hard-working, creative people, and they make this show what it is. This isn't my show anymore, it's theirs, and I can't think of a better group of people to hand it over to. I'm so proud of them, and I want to thank them for all the time and work they've put into this production as well.

In short, thank you to everyone who helped me put this show together. You helped create something amazing.
